

United States Institute of Peace Press

Since its inception, the United States Institute of Peace Press has published over 150 books on the prevention, management, and peaceful resolution of international conflicts—among them such venerable titles as Raymond Cohen’s Negotiating Across Cultures; Herding Cats and Leashing the Dogs of War by Chester A. Crocker, Fen Osler Hampson, and Pamela Aall; and I. William Zartman’s Peacemaking and International Conflict. All our books arise from research and fieldwork sponsored by the Institute’s many programs. In keeping with the best traditions of scholarly publishing, each volume undergoes both thorough internal review and blind peer review by external subject experts to ensure that the research, scholarship, and conclusions are balanced, relevant, and sound. As the Institute prepares to move to its new headquarters on the National Mall in Washington, D.C., the Press is committed to extending the reach of the Institute’s work by continuing to publish significant and sustainable works for practitioners, scholars, diplomats, and students.
