Preparing individuals to prevent and transform violent conflict through online trainings

With global access to courses you can increase your knowledge and skills in a professional classroom bridging research, theory, and practice. Engage with international experts and connect with classmates around the world. USIP’s Global Campus offers a live, dynamic online training experience designed to meet your needs.

Why join the USIP Global Campus?

• You need to hone your skills to effectively respond to violent conflict.

• You want to increase your knowledge on how to build sustainable peace.

• You need training in a flexible and convenient format tailored for busy professionals.

• You want to join a vibrant learning community to connect with fellow experts and practitioners around the world.

Virtual scenarios that challenge analytical and decision-making skills

A Unique Approach

USIP’s Global Campus courses feature an innovative problem-solving, game-based approach to online learning. Each course immerses you in engaging virtual scenarios where you will be tasked to solve a critical mission. Your skills and knowledge will be tested as you navigate challenges in a “choose-your-own-adventure” format. These scenarios model real-life contexts common in destabilized, conflict-affected regions, and prepare you for working effectively in these environments.

1. Your Challenge
2. Get Trained
3. Complete Your Mission
What’s inside a USIP Global Campus Course?

- Problem-based, virtual scenarios designed to challenge your analytical and decision-making skills.
- Carefully curated resources for further learning, including case studies, articles, books and media.
- Stimulating video presentations from top international experts and practitioners.
- Live weekly podcast series hosted with guest experts.
- Interactive live webinars that convenes scholars, practitioners, and activists.
- Opportunities to connect, network and share with other professionals around the world.

Most Global Campus courses take place over four weeks and include a combination of live, scheduled activities and a variety of resources to explore at your own pace.

Partners

Testimonials

“I enjoyed the class and found it helpful for both my career and most importantly for me to understand and cope with daily burdens of long term conflicts.”

Francine Nabintu
Project Manager/ HEAL Africa, Gender and Communication Specialist
Democratic Republic of Congo

“I was able to learn a number of very useful theoretical concepts and learned a lot by interacting with other participants from all over the world.”

Manoj Bhusal
Editor-in-Chief, Global South Development Magazine Helsinki, Finland

Contact Us

Email: academy@usip.org
Call: 202-429-7178
www.usipglobalcampus.org