Lesson 3.3
Organizations Working for Peace

Rationale
Peacebuilding organizations can be as large as national governments or as small as a single person. In this lesson, students will explore the history, growth, and activities of a variety of organizations dedicated to promoting peacebuilding, as well as consider the potential for all types of organizations to play a positive role in peacebuilding.

Objectives
1. To identify organizations working to build peace.
2. To learn how students can contribute to the mission of some organizations.

Standards
◆ Individual Development and Identity
◆ Individuals, Groups and Institutions

Time: 1.5 class periods (70 minutes—45 minutes for preparation the first day and 25 minutes for presentations and discussion on the second day)

Materials
☑ Note-Taking Form for Researching a Peacebuilding Organization Worksheet
☑ Creating a Commercial Handout
☑ Miscellaneous art supplies that students might need for their commercials
☑ Flip Video Camera (optional)
☑ TV (optional, only necessary if you film the commercials)

Preparation
If your students do not have access to the Internet to conduct research in class, you will have to select organizations for groups to research and print information about each organization prior to class.
Part 1

Procedures

I. Essential Questions:
1. How do organizations work as peacebuilders?
2. Why are organizations important in helping individuals promote peace?

II. Motivation (5 minutes)
1. Tell students that they are going to look beyond individual peacebuilders and focus on organizations that work for peacebuilding. Ask:
   ◆ What organizations do you know of that build peace?
2. Write student responses on the board. If they have difficulty generating a list, you can use some of the organizations from the list of Nobel Peace Prize winners. An article listing winners (both people and organizations) appears at this link: http://nobelprize.org/nobel_prizes/peace/articles/lundestad-review/. Also, the United States Institute of Peace has a comprehensive list of international organizations at this link: http://www.usip.org/publications/international-organizations.
3. Ask students what kind of organizations they have identified: local, national, international, governmental, nonprofit? What are some of the differences between these kinds of organizations? Note that governments, themselves, can work for peace. The U.S. is often a third party engaged in building peace. Parties in conflict often look to trusted outside governments to help end conflicts in their region.

III. Teacher Directed (10 minutes)
1. Tell students that when groups work together to prevent or manage conflicts, they can sometimes reach wider audiences and get more people engaged because they have the structures in place to do so.
2. Share that in groups of three, students will research a national or an international organization that works for international peace, e.g. USIP, U.N., or Peace Links, an international women’s peace education group founded in 1981, which was a major force in ending the Nuclear Arms race, and write a commercial about that organization which they will perform in front of the class. If you have a video camera, you may choose to film the performances.
3. Distribute the Note-Taking Form for Researching a Peacebuilding Organization Worksheet and the Creating a Commercial Handout. Review both with students.
4. Divide students into groups of three. Assign each student an international organization that works for peace or allow them to select their own from a list you have generated, from the list they generated at the beginning of class, or from their own research. If students do not have access to the Internet in class for researching their organization, prior to class you will need to determine the organizations to be researched and print information from each organization’s website for students to review. Again, the United States Institute of Peace has a comprehensive list of international organizations at the following link: http://www.usip.org/publications/international-organizations and the Nobel Prize website has information about organizations that have won the peace prize.

Extension Activity 1
Have students turn their commercial into a print advertisement or poster.

Extension Activity 2
Have students research an individual who works for an organization dedicated to peacebuilding. What is his/her job description? What is his/her academic and professional background? Interview this person by phone or email to learn more about what they do and why they chose to do it.
Part 2

Procedures

I. Independent Practice (15 minutes)
Have students present their commercials.

II. Discussion (10 minutes)
Lead a class discussion using some or all of the following questions:
- What similarities and differences did you notice in the organizations represented in the commercials?
- Which organization would you most likely support? Why? How would you want to support it?
- Why is it important that we work together in organized groups to build peace?

Assessment:
Note-taking forms and commercials (You can use the guidelines on the Creating a Commercial Handout to evaluate the commercials.)
Lesson 3.3 WORKSHEET: NOTE-TAKING FORM FOR RESEARCHING A PEACEBUILDING ORGANIZATION

Directions: Research your organization and answer the questions below. When you are finished with the questions, you can begin to create and rehearse your commercial.

Handout 3.3 HANDOUT: CREATING A COMMERCIAL ABOUT A PEACEBUILDING ORGANIZATION

Directions  Use the following steps to create your commercial about a peace organization.

Step One  Select your peace organization. Write its name here.

Name: ________________________________________________________________

Step Two  Research your organization using the internet. Take notes on the Note-Taking Form about Peacebuilding Organizations. Be sure to cover all topics listed on the form.

Step Three  From your notes create a 30 second commercial about the organization, using the guidelines below. You can write the commercial in script form or you can make a story board to illustrate the commercial. To make a story board, draw a series of squares on a piece of paper and in each square show the action that is taking place in the commercial. When you look at the squares in order, you see the story that the commercial is telling.

Guidelines

- The commercial should be 30 seconds or shorter.
- The commercial should include accurate information that covers ALL of the note-taking topics.
- The commercial should include all three members of the team.
- The commercial should be creative in some way (e.g., includes a jingle, is humorous, has props, etc.)
- The commercial should engage the viewer. At the end of the commercial, the viewer should want to learn more about the organization and the work it does.

Step Four  Once the commercial is written, REHEARSE with the members of the team. Make any props necessary.

Step Five  Perform your commercial!
