Academy On-Campus Courses

Governance and Democratic Practices in War-to-Peace Transitions
Develop effective strategies in establishing stable institutions and supporting a robust civil society. Modules address the interrelationship among issues of corruption, accountability, rule of law, elections, political party development, public administration, and economic reconstruction in divided societies.

May 6 - 10
9 am-5 pm

Human Rights and International Humanitarian Law
What is the difference between international human rights law and international humanitarian law? This introductory course will answer this question and other basic questions related to this field: How are these terms used and applied by international bodies? How do they interact and what are their impacts in conflict-affected states?

May 14-16
9 am-5 pm

Negotiations from Checkpoints to High Politics
Learn to adapt tactics to varying, dynamic situations, and learn how to plan for a negotiation. Master a fifteen-point framework that encourages improvisation and helps overcome barriers to agreement in situations ranging from policy coordination to crisis negotiations in the field to high-level diplomatic encounters.

May 20-23
9 am-5 pm

Advancing Security Sector Reform and Governance
Explore field-tested methods for building military and police forces and oversight ministries in transition and post-conflict states through “hands-on” application of security sector assessment, strategic planning, and evaluation tools.

May 21-23
9 am-5 pm

Health Care in Post-Conflict and Fragile States
Explore the importance of public health in fragile and conflict-affected states and understand how equal access to good health care is a critical component of post-conflict reconstruction and peacebuilding. Analyze short-term delivery of public health in conflict situations as well as long-term development of the public health sector.

June 10-14
9 am-5 pm

Leading Adaptive Teams in Conflict Environments
This course is tailored for students from different institutional backgrounds expecting to lead teams in conflict environments overseas. The aim is to prepare students for leadership roles in uncertain, chaotic environments. Students will learn analytical methods such as scenario decisions and network analysis to understand and make effective decisions in such environments. They will also learn important teambuilding skills useful for working with diverse teams and sharing space with other organizations.

June 24-28
9 am-5 pm

Online Courses
A reflection of the Institute’s long-standing commitment to innovation, Academy Online is a distance-learning program that applies the latest advances in media and technology to bring relevant courses to the widest possible community of academics and practitioners. Courses include:

- Introduction to Conflict Analysis
- Introduction to Interfaith Conflict Resolution
- Introduction to Negotiation and Conflict Management
- Introduction to the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe
